

Introduction

Michael Chan is a lighting designer who has worked on a wide gamut of arts, entertainment and installation projects.

His experience ranges from consultancy in installations and major events, to design and programming for 3D visualization, musicals, concerts, special events, galleries, exhibitions and architainment.

He is conversant in English and Mandarin and is living in Singapore.

Design Philosophy

Lighting design is about bridging gaps.

Bridging the gap between art and science; between imagination and reality.

In order to bring the visions, colors and rich worlds from the realm of the imagination into reality, a lighting designer needs to possess both an acute aesthetic sensibility and a wide knowledge of technical tools and systems.

And that is what Michael does, being that bridge, balancing that delicate scale of the sense of wonderment and pragmatism. Michael's aim is to create moments that will last long in the emotional memory of the watcher.
